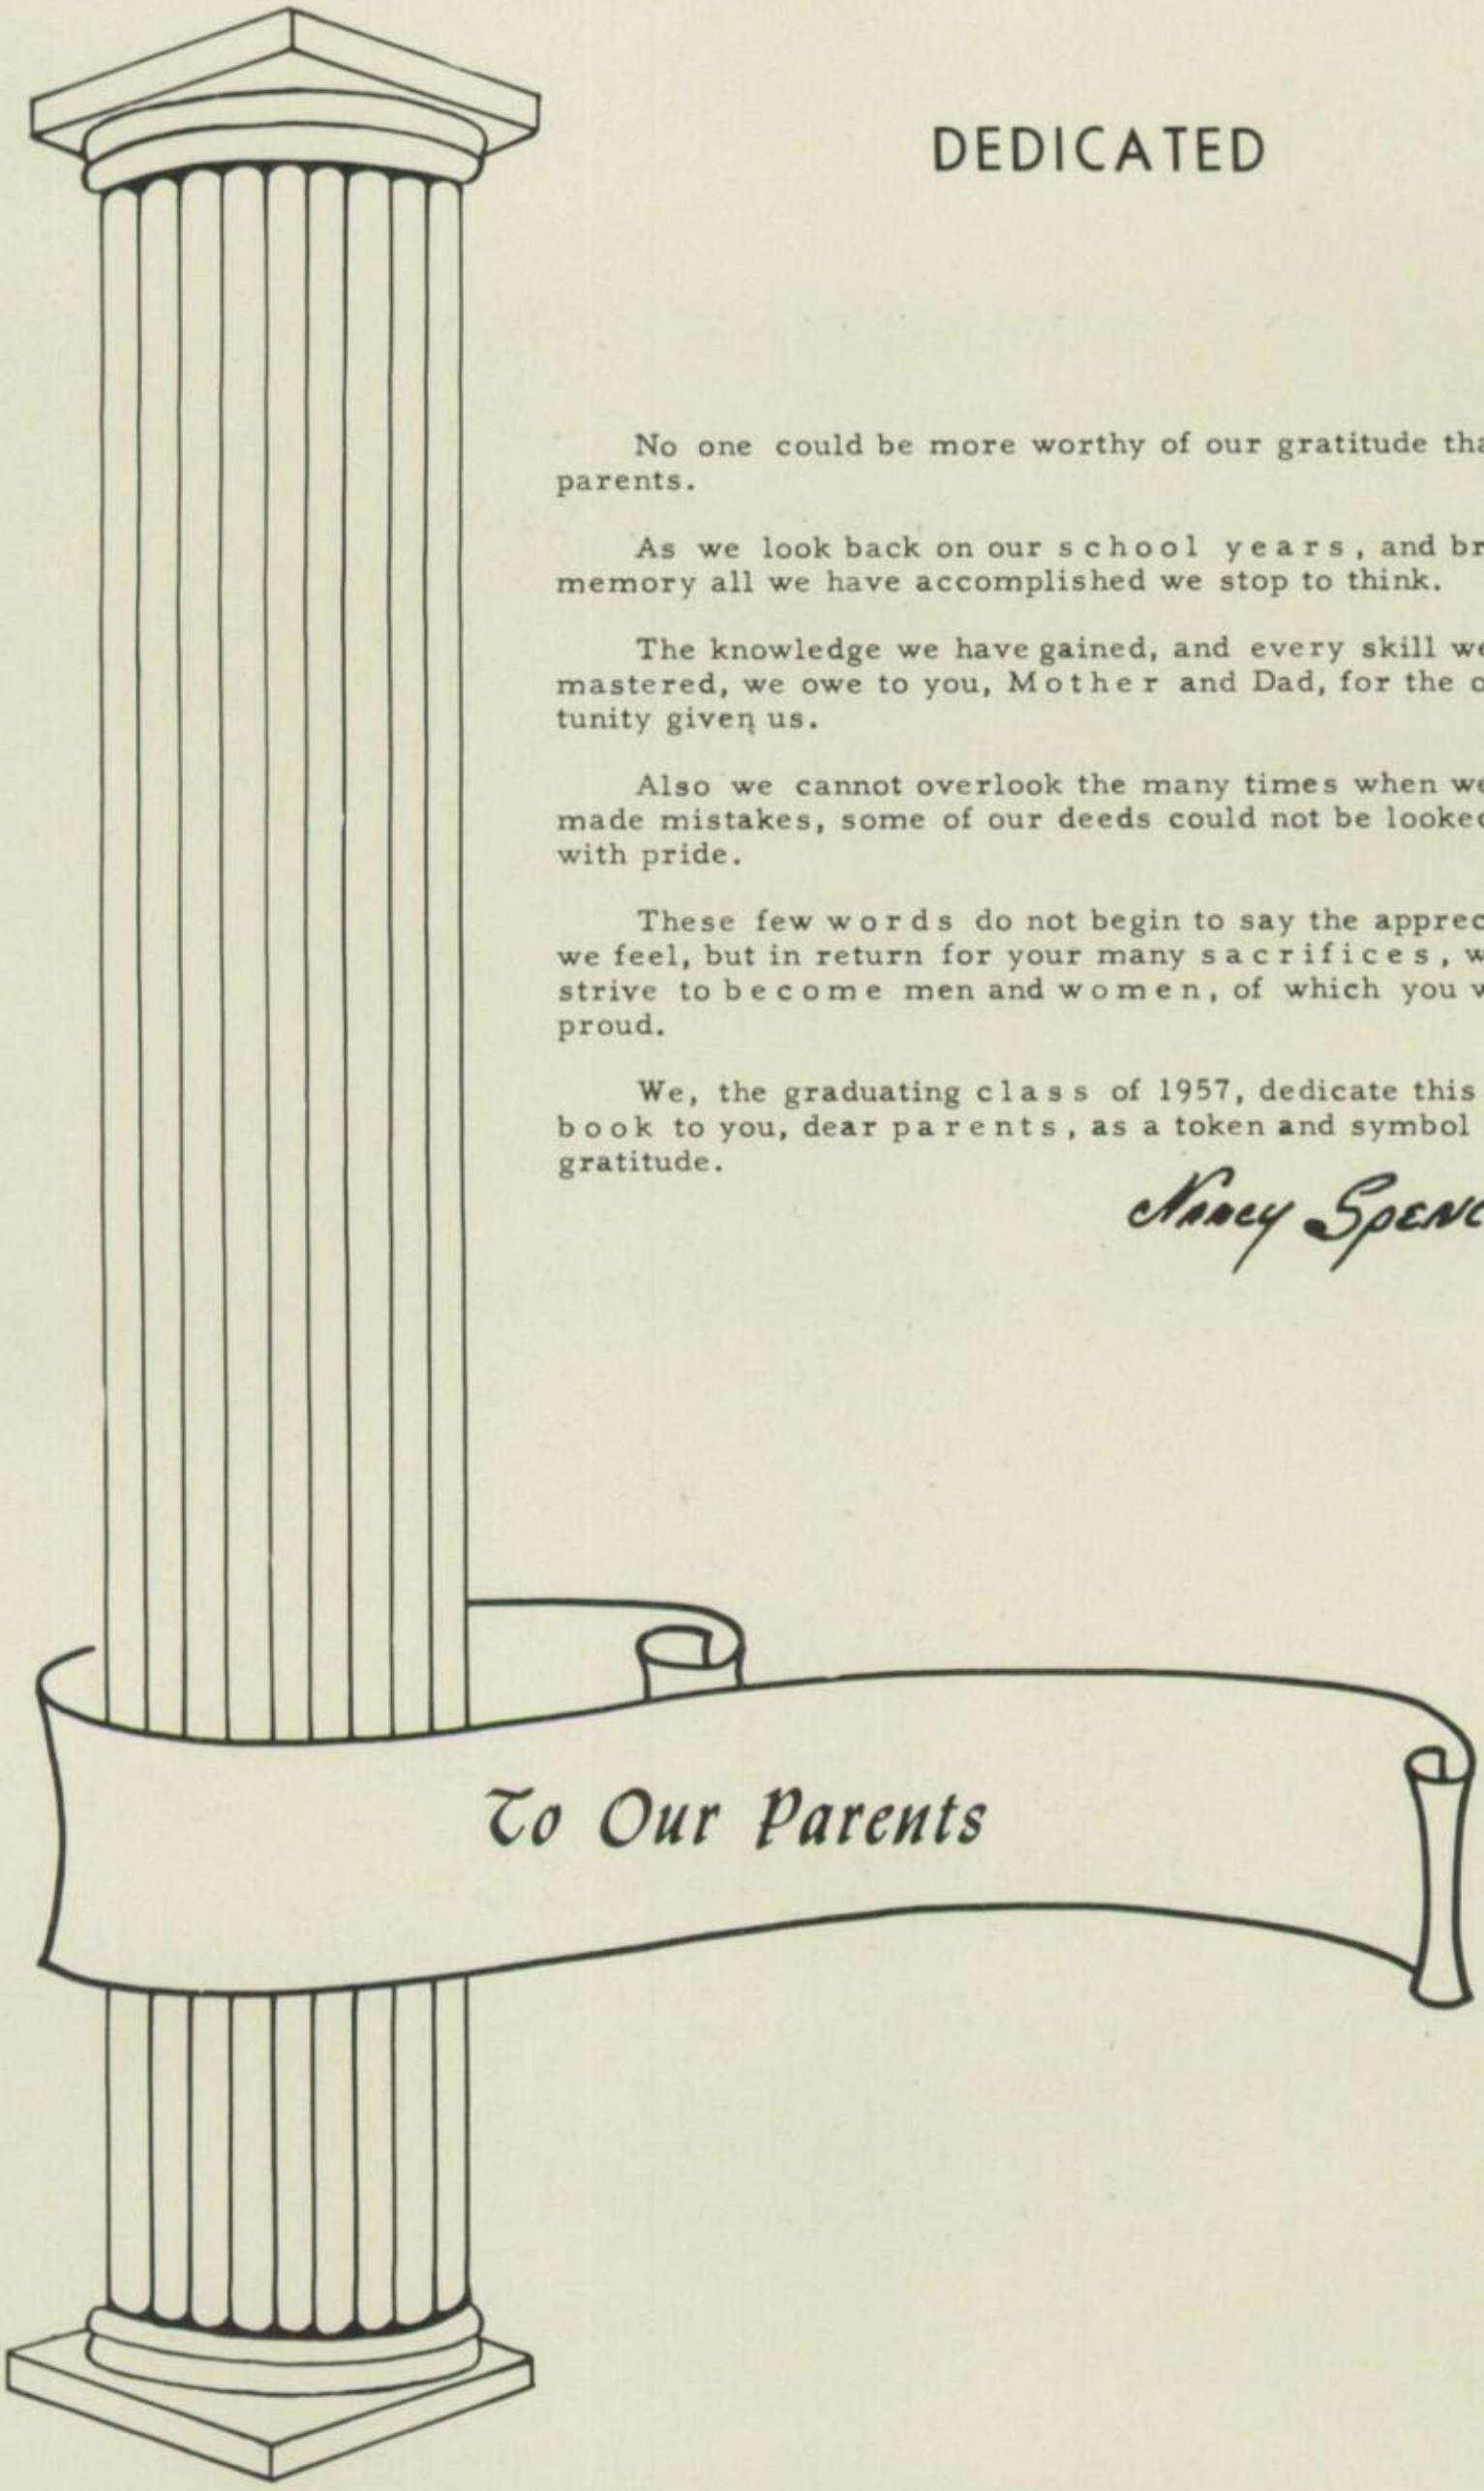
THE WILDCAT



DEDICATED

No one could be more worthy of our gratitude than our parents.

As we look back on our school years, and bring to memory all we have accomplished we stop to think.

The knowledge we have gained, and every skill we have mastered, we owe to you, Mother and Dad, for the opportunity given us.

Also we cannot overlook the many times when we have made mistakes, some of our deeds could not be looked upon with pride.

These few words do not begin to say the appreciation we feel, but in return for your many sacrifices, we will strive to become men and women, of which you will be proud.

We, the graduating class of 1957, dedicate this yearbook to you, dear parents, as a token and symbol of our gratitude.

Class Poem

How true we are stepping the ladder of success!
So proud are we of the round that has been made.
But here we stand with steps unstepped,
As onward we look, as onward we pave.

Mighty is that round that has been made,
Sure and sound as one could be;
But there's more, many more
Before one completes his history.

Oh, how it seems that just yesterday
Our school years here did start,
With each mind wandering but gay;
As he knew in four years he must part.

"But, why are they to part?"
Is the question not so vivid to the smaller.
Taking the one aside, like a mother, we answer,
"Because we're advancing into the world-further and further."

There are many debts that cannot be paid
To our teachers, parents and friends so kind,
But to each one we would like to say,
"Once someone was your guide; Now you're mine."

Yes, our first round has been made,
And it is to our school we pledge in main,
But to master our art and profession
Is the next ladder we hope to gain.

And when ladders after ladders have been climbed,
And everyone has reached his eternal success,
We can count those ladders and know
That the one started here proved to be the best.

'Tis true, "Parting is such sorrow";
But there is a part of us that still remains.
We leave our swords, our marks and scars we carry
As onward we look, as onward we pave.

Class History

On a bright September morning in the year 1953 a loud group of freshmen flocked into Madison High School. Some felt at home; others there for the first time. Our homeroom teachers were Doris Frye and Raymond Cure. Under their supervision we began to learn the ropes and fell into step with the upper classmen. Class officers were: President, Clyde Neal; Vice-President, Ruby Atkins; Secretary-Treasurer, Peggy Lauten. Before we knew it summer vacation was there and gone.

As we entered as Sophomores, there were quite a few of our classmates missing. Officers were: Ann Knight, President; James Ratchford, Vice-President Benny Freeman, Secretary; Pete Price, Treasurer and Kenny Gann, Reporter. Our candidate for Homecoming Queen was Sylvia Ratledge. Becky Burris and Marie Cox represented our class in the may Court. The Sophomore-Senior weiner roast at Mayo Park was enjoyed by all of us. Carrying the Daisy Chain for the Senior class was an honor for all of us. Sponsors were Beverly Cowman and Lila Robertson. Summer vacation again and not a bit too soon.

Juniors at last, our class was even smaller. Sponsors were Jack Norris and George Deaton. Class officers were: President, Donnie Richardson; Vice-President, Larry Flynn; Secretary, Ann Knight; and Treasurer, Becky Webster. Hazel Parrish, our candidate, was elected Homecoming Queen. The big and most exciting event was the Junior-Senior Prom. We ordered our class rings in January and received them in May. Marshalls for '56 were: James Ratchford, Chief; Peggy Lauten, Mary Lawrence, Deann Hutchings, Ann Knight, Yvonne Thacker, Ruby Atkins, and Nancy Spencer. After all the excitement it was vacation again.

Seniors--the class had dropped to only thirty-six members. This was the busiest and most enjoyable year yet. Senior sponsors were Ruth McKellar and Sara Norris. Officers were: President, Larry Flynn; Vice-President, Wayne Hopper; Secretary, Becky Webster; Treasurer, Peggy Lauten; and Reporter, Benny Freeman. Annual Staff for the '57 WILDCAT were: Nancy Spencer, Editor-in-chief; Benny Freeman, Advertising Manager; Ann Knight, Business Manager; Deann Hutchings, Art Editor; Yvonne Thacker, Activities Editor; Paul Knight, Sports Editor; and Hazel Parrish and Marie Cox, Typists. Sara Norris was our sponsor for the Annual. The Class Prophecy was written by Peggy Lauten, Last Will and Testament by Mary Lawrence and Carol Snead, Class Poem by Ann Knight, and Class History by Marie Cox. Becky Burris was our candidate for Homecoming Queen. Our Senior Play was a huge success. Mascots were Mark Henry Byrum and Yvonne Washburn. Then came the final round, graduation. Soon all of us would depart from Madison High School knowing they were the happiest years of our lives.

Class Prophecy

One day by some strange coincidence we came upon an old rusty lamp. We picked it up, and as we rubbed the dust from it; very suddenly a genie appeared.

Evidentally this was Aladdin's lamp, because this little genie told me the following things about the lives of my classmates.

Johnny Knight, star of stage, screen and TV, has just completed a new movie for Paramount Studios co-starring with Becky Burris in Love Me or Leave Me, preferably "Leave Me."

Carol Snead has just won the Women's International Golf Tournament.

Johnny Joyner and Larry Young are driving for the Greyhound Bus Company.

Hazel Parrish is now testing and also doing the Revlon commercials on the $64,000 Question.

Barbara Joyce and Nancy Hurd are hostesses for TWA.

Larry Flynn has been chosen to represent the U.S. at the winter Olympics in Australia.

Agnes Roberts and Jean Clark have joined the Waves to see the world and the men.

Ruby Atkins is now practicing law in Greensboro.

Paul Knight has just been elected as head of the Agricultural Department.

Barbara Hooker is bringing in the points for the Hanes Basketball Team.

Norma Jean Davis is now teaching English at Reynolds High School.

Pete Price, test driver for the Ford Motor Company, has just completed a trial run in the new sports car designed by Donnie Richardson.

Roberta Burton, famous beauty expert, won honors today for her creation of the new hair style, the spit-poodle.

Nancy Lee Penn, pin-up girl of 1964, is now modeling the latest creations of CHRISTIAN DIORS at Sak's Fifth Avenue.

Ernest Owens, All-American tackle of 1965, has retired as a player and is now coaching at Madison High School.

Becky Wester will make her professional debut tonight at the Sandy Ridge Opera House singing the lead role in "Garmen."

Benny Freeman, noted biologist, is leading an expedition into the Amazon (in search of an ant.)

Yvonne Thacker is private secretary to the Commander-in-Chief of the Air Force.

Marie Cox has stormed the TV audiences and night clubs with her fabulous impersonations and pantomines.

The Professional Stock Car Driver, Jack Hall, has just set a world's record at the Indianapolis 500.

Eunice Barrett is working as a telephone operator for the Bell Telephone Company.

Peggy Lauten is Athletic Director at the Y.M.C.A. in Orlando, Florida.

After many years of hard work, Geraldine Roberts and Bonnie Plummer have succeeded in converting the savages of the Congo.

Peggy Williams is making a grand tour of the world.

The new "flame" with the teenagers, Kenny Gann, has hit Hollywood like Elvis Presley without a guitar.

Deann Hutchings has been chosen "America's Mother of the Year" for 1965 while her schoolmate, Mary Lawrence, has captured the title of "Most Successful Homemaker."

Today, after performing their first operation Dr. Wayne Hopper and Surgical Nurse, Nancy Spencer were questioned by the Bureau of Missing Persons.

Ann Knight, noted child Psychologist, has just published her first book How to Raise Parents.

It is strange how at this time we have foreseen the careers of many of our classmates. To these whose careers we have been able to follow, we pause to say thank-you for the places of achievement you have gained for yourselves and us.

Since life is what we make it, depend on us to give it the best we have.
